

“

I chose to go back to school and in April of 2019 I obtained an Associate's degree in Human and Social Services. Then in the fall of 2019 I was accepted to ASU online for my Bachelor's in Public Service and Public Policy.

I want to be able to use this degree to help other women realize there is hope. There is a future and purpose for every person, and there are resources out there to help you reach your goals. And if by some chance you are like I was, with no goals at all, there are people who can help you set and achieve those goals.”
